Who can apply?

The programme is for charities and social enterprises tackling social problems amongst disadvantaged communities:

- To enable them to break through the barriers to growth and deliver social impact at scale.
- To enable them to increase the number of beneficiaries and or social impact in the communities they serve.

The Programme is targeted at supporting activities focused on growth (it is not intended to replace existing finance for normal business activity).

Definition – social problems / disadvantaged communities

Our working definition of “disadvantaged community” is mapped against available data concerning individuals¹, community places², and social/community business³.

¹ Drawing on the Department for Communities and Local Government’s (DCLG) triennial Indices of Multiple Deprivation concerning income, employment, education & skills & training, health & disability, crime, housing & services and living environment. The latest statistical release for 2015 is available here.

² Building inclusive and resilient social economies, December 2016, SEUK, identifies five common factors that can help develop communities: (1) key individuals, (2) social and economic deprivation, (3) geography, (4) institutional support and (5) history and culture. These factors can be triangulated against relevant data such as the Centre for Cities research on primary urban areas (see here) and other Government data on infrastructure investment.

³ We know from SEUK data that one third of social enterprises are based in the top 20% most deprived areas, and would therefore draw on relevant sector research, such as The community business market in 2016, Social Finance, March 2016; and relevant local and national policy information on business regulation, tax and support, to help provide a working definition.

What is a Repayable Grant?

Partial repayment of the Funds under a Revenue Participation Agreement (RPA)

The Funds are partially repayable depending on the revenue performance of the Recipient. This means that the Funds represent patient and flexible capital for early stage social ventures as repayments are linked to whether revenue growth is achieved.

Acceptance of the offer confirms the Recipient's agreement to enter into an RPA on the terms below.

Charities and social enterprises will be able to draw down the first 50% of the offer. Subject to hitting milestones (within six months) which will be agreed between the Recipient and the Fund Manager (Social Investment Business) prior to the offer being made. They will then be able to access the additional 50%.

Calculation of Revenue Participation Agreement payment

Repayments will be calculated based on a 20% charge to incremental revenue.

Baseline RPA: Trading revenue that is generated in the 12 months prior to the date of the second drawdown will provide the baseline for calculating the RPA.

We define 'trading revenue' as revenue generated through the sale of products and services offered by the Recipient and not including any grant funding received.

Year 2 RPA: Year 2 Revenue is defined as trading revenue generated in the 12 months following the Baseline Year.

Any potential repayments are calculated as revenue generated the following twelve months, minus the baseline revenue, multiplied by 20%.

This will be required to be paid within three months of the invoice being issued.

The maximum repayment amounts to 50% of the awarded funds. No more repayment will be requested once this amount has been reached.

An invoice for the repayment will be presented by the Funder for payment within 30 days.

Non-payment of the invoice will constitute an event of default

There will be a maximum of one repayment made: 'Year 2 RPA' (note, this is a two-year programme).

Worked up example

'Charity A' is accepted onto the programme. They are issued with an offer letter dated Sept 2018 with an investment amount of £20,000. They can draw down 50% (£10,000) and subject to them hitting certain milestones will be able to drawdown the final 50% (£10,000) in March 2019.

The baseline will be calculated from the month following the date of the second drawdown, so April 2019. To determine the baseline, we will request monthly management accounts for the period April 2018 – March 2019.

If we assume that the baseline in this case is £40,000 which is the trading revenue that has been generated for the 12 months prior to the offer, this will now form the basis for determining if or how much repayment will be due at the end of the RPA period.

We then collect a further 12 months of management accounts and in this case, the amount is £65,000 (trading revenue generated in the period following the baseline = YR2 RPA).

To determine if there are any payments due, we subtract the baseline income £40,000 (which was the income generated in YR1) from the income generated in YR2 £65,000 and multiply it by 20%. In this case there are repayments due, because 'Charity A' has increased its income by £25,000.

Therefore, the repayments due = £65,000 - £40,000 = £25,000 *20% = £5,000

If there was no increase, then no repayments will be due.
